

HAPPY NEW YEAR 2006

Dear All,

As usual, the Glover's have failed to get their act into gear to do Christmas cards, so please forgive us. We hope this late New Year's greeting will compensate to some degree.

We have had an action packed year. My late Godmother bequeathed some money to us and enabled us to enjoy our first ever family ski holiday, and also to return to South Africa to revisit some important memories. These were very special holidays which we will all remember.

Anna is now in year 8 and growing up fast. She continues to do well at School, and is involved with MANY after school activities including: TaeKwonDo, Dance, Drama, Christian Home Group and Youth Club.

Edward is heading towards SATS. He had a star role in the school play as a baddy which was hilarious and SO Edward. He loves making models, and seems to have some of his Father's obsessive compulsive tendencies with regards to his "projects"!

William is 6 and has changed massively this year. He is far more outgoing and much more involved in school. He is still quite an assertive young man and his knowledge of Star Wars is second to none.

I have had a very busy year. The photo at the top of the page is of a nutty young lady I met in church at the beginning of the year. We have had a fun year with Lizzie, and just after Christmas she agreed to marry me. I told you she was nutty, and yes, we are engaged! Lizzie is a primary school teacher, who brings a wild, musical, witty and unique contribution to the family. Watch this space( )

Wishing you a fab 2006

with love from

Anna, Edward, William, Peter and Lizzie.

xxxxx
